Do you have any useful tips for choosing the best one? Let's talk about it in the comments below, and, as always, thanks for reading! A group of resume templates, originally designed by the Rensselaer Career Development Center, is available in LaTeX format. There are two files for each style: a PDF file for viewing with your PDF Viewer (probably Acrobat Reader), and a .tex file (the source) for copying. There are also some examples of cover letters. Once you have viewed all the formats and selected one (or more) you like, download the corresponding tex file(s) to your computer and replace the text that is there with your own information. Note: The templates use a resume class called travel. If you don't already have the res.cls file on your system, you can download it using the link below. You can put this file in the same folder as the .tex file you use for your resume. The templates use the default Computer Modern fonts. You may prefer to use a font like Helvetica or New Century Schoolbook instead. The .tex files contain comments that show you how to do this. The necessary files for the New Century Schoolbook are available on your system, but if you decide to use Helvetica, you need to download (from the link below) the file helvetica.sty. Cv and letter template files First view the different styles by clicking on the .pdf files in the left column. To download a corresponding tex files, right-click name, select Save Target As and navigate to the location on your computer where you want to store it.
